Sunday's Sermon: Genesis 3:1-13

Congratulations:

Hannah Ripley recently graduated from Ball State University on Saturday, May 3. Let's be sure to congratulate her on this big achievement in her life.

Where are you:

No, this question has nothing to do with Scooby-Doo. It has everything to do with a new sermon series on Questions found in the Bible. It begins this Sunday with five questions found in the passage listed above.

Good News:

From what has been shared, the new version of the Volunteer Schedule has been approved. We say it has been approved because there were no other suggestions to improve the latest revision.

Praise Prompt:

This Sunday we will have the opportunity to share some of the mighty deeds of God we have seen in our lives. This comes after the sermon's challenge last week and the passage found in Acts 2:11. I saw God's might when...

Mission Update:

The Laurel Mission newsletter as well as the Bilimek's newsletter can be found at the Mission Center for anyone who would like see all God is doing Laurel, Kentucky and/or Indonesia. These are two of the three mission organizations the WCC supports with your tithes and offerings.

It's Here:

Great News! Thanks to a grant, the church now has an AED. What's an AED? It is a portable, electronic device used in emergencies to help someone with a sudden cardiac arrest. It will soon be hung on a wall determined by those who know best.

Coming Attraction:

If anyone is interested in being baptized, talk with Pastor Troy. Depending on schedules, more than one baptismal service may be held. Once all interested individuals are known, a time & place will be determined to hold this special event.

Let's Pray:

Brent Hodle (Health Issues)
Steve and Lindsey Bilimek who serve God in Indonesia.
Jeff and Shauna Spence who serve God in Taiwan.
