Sunday's Sermon: Exodus 20:1-3 (Ten Commandments)

Fundraising:

The Hope Clinic will be having two banquets this Fall. The dates are Monday, September 12 and Thursday, September 15. A small poster is at the Mission Center with more information about these events.

Commandment 1:

"You shall have no other gods before me." Our closeness to God is affected by how well this commandment is obeyed. How can we be focused on our relationship with God each day and not get tangled in other gods? Find out Sunday.

Laurel Mission:

The newsletter from Laurel Mission can be found at the Mission Center. Take some time to read through it. You can also watch a presentation of the Spence Family while you are at the Mission Center.

The Bread has arrived:

What does this mean? If you are a Daily Bread reader, then you know September is the beginning of a new quarter of devotionals. You can get your copies at the Welcome Center. May God bless the Bread and enrich your soul.

FREE:

You will find on a table in the gym books from the Mission Center. If you would like to have one or all of them, it is on a first come basis. This is being done to create more room for material about the Spence family as we begin relating with them.

Stay Informed:

As we relate to Jeff and Shauna Spence and their kids you may find their newsletter is helpful. If you would like to receive their newsletter, let them know by sending them an email to sleighspence@gmail.com. What a way to encourage them!

New Directories:

We are planning on printing updated church directories soon, so if any part of your information has changed, contact Pastor Troy. Also, share this message with those you talk to in case they haven't read this announcement.

Prayer Items:

- Pray for the WestSide Community to interact with the Spence family.
- Pray for people to arrive early to build friendships and prepare for worship.
- Pray for the success of the Operation Christmas Child mission project.
